

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES
FOR THE DISTRICT OF SOUTH CAROLINA
GREENVILLE DIVISION

Robert W. Johnson,

Plaintiff,

vs.

Officer Ponticello,

Defendant.

C/A No. 6:24-cv-05076-RMG-KFM

REPORT OF MAGISTRATE JUDGE

This is a civil action filed by a pro se non-prisoner plaintiff. Pursuant to the provisions of 28 U.S.C. § 636(b) and Local Civil Rule 73.02(B)(2) (D.S.C.), this magistrate judge is authorized to review all pretrial matters in this case and submit findings and recommendations to the district court. The plaintiff's complaint was entered on the docket on September 18, 2024 (doc. 1). Upon review of the complaint, the undersigned recommends that it be summarily dismissed.

ALLEGATIONS

This is a civil action filed by the plaintiff, a non-prisoner proceeding pro se (doc. 1). The plaintiff alleges that the defendant has violated his rights by "discriminations, civil rights violations and due process violations" (id. at 3). The plaintiff contends that on September 2, 2024, after Mr. Reid trespassed on the plaintiff's property, the defendant failed to arrest Mr. Reid or enter a restraining order against Mr. Reid when requested by the plaintiff (id. at 4). The plaintiff's injuries include mental and physical anguish (id. at 5). For relief, the plaintiff seeks money damages (id.).

APPLICABLE LAW & ANALYSIS

The plaintiff filed this action pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915, the in forma pauperis statute. This statute authorizes the District Court to dismiss a case if it is satisfied that the action “fails to state a claim on which relief may be granted,” is “frivolous or malicious,” or “seeks monetary relief against a defendant who is immune from such relief.” 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2)(B). As a pro se litigant, the plaintiff’s pleadings are accorded liberal construction and held to a less stringent standard than formal pleadings drafted by attorneys. See Erickson v. Pardus, 551 U.S. 89 (2007) (per curiam). The requirement of liberal construction does not mean that the Court can ignore a clear failure in the pleading to allege facts which set forth a claim cognizable in a federal district court. See Weller v. Dep’t of Soc. Servs., 901 F.2d 387, 391 (4th Cir. 1990).

“The Federal Rules of Civil Procedure recognize that courts must have the authority to control litigation before them.” Ballard v. Carlson, 882 F.2d 93, 95 (4th Cir. 1989) (citing Fed. R. Civ. P. 41(b)). Federal courts are courts of limited jurisdiction, “constrained to exercise only the authority conferred by Article III of the Constitution and affirmatively granted by federal statute.” In re Bulldog Trucking, Inc., 147 F.3d 347, 352 (4th Cir. 1998). Since federal courts have limited subject matter jurisdiction, there is no presumption that the court has jurisdiction. Pinkley, Inc. v. City of Frederick, 191 F.3d 394, 399 (4th Cir. 1999) (citing Lehigh Mining & Mfg. Co. v. Kelly, 160 U.S. 337 (1895)). Accordingly, a federal court is required, sua sponte, to determine if a valid basis for its jurisdiction exists, “and to dismiss the action if no such ground appears.” Bulldog Trucking, 147 F.3d at 352; see also Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(h)(3) (“If the court determines at any time that it lacks subject-matter jurisdiction, the court must dismiss the action.”).

There are two types of federal jurisdiction: federal question jurisdiction and diversity jurisdiction. Federal question jurisdiction arises when the case arises under the Constitution, laws, or treaties of the United States. 28 U.S.C. § 1331. Diversity jurisdiction, on the other hand, is conferred upon the Court when a suit is between citizens of different states and the amount in controversy exceeds $75,000.00. 28 U.S.C. § 1332(a). Here, liberally construed, the plaintiff alleges federal question jurisdiction based on 28 U.S.C. § 1983 (doc. 1 at 3).

Section 1983 “‘is not itself a source of substantive rights,’ but merely provides ‘a method for vindicating federal rights elsewhere conferred.’” Albright v. Oliver, 510 U.S. 266, 271 (1994) (quoting Baker v. McCollan, 443 U.S. 137, 144 n. 3 (1979)). A civil action under § 1983 “creates a private right of action to vindicate violations of ‘rights, privileges, or immunities secured by the Constitution and laws’ of the United States.” Rehberg v. Paulk, 566 U.S. 356, 361 (2012). To state a claim under § 1983, a plaintiff must allege two essential elements: (1) that a right secured by the Constitution or laws of the United States was violated, and (2) that the alleged violation was committed by a person acting under the color of state law. West v. Atkins, 487 U.S. 42, 48 (1988).

Venue

Venue in § 1983 actions is established by 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b), which provides that a civil action can be brought in:

- (1) a judicial district where any defendant resides, if all defendants are residents of the State in which the district is located;
- (2) a judicial district in which a substantial part of the events or omissions giving rise to the claim occurred, or a substantial part of property that is the subject of the action is situated; or
- (3) if there is no district in which an action may otherwise be brought as provided in this section, any judicial district in which any defendant is subject to the court’s personal jurisdiction with respect to such action.

28 U.S.C. § 1391(b). Therefore, under Section 1391, this action may be heard in a venue where the defendant resides (Syracuse, New York), or in the venue where the issue substantially arose (Syracuse, New York) – both of which appear to be located in the United States District Court for the Northern District of New York. The court may, “in the interest of justice,” transfer a case “to any district or division in which it could have been brought.” 28 U.S.C. § 1406(a). Under the plain language of § 1406(a), dismissal – and not transfer – is the default disposition of a case filed in an improper venue. When evaluating the propriety of a transfer, rather than a dismissal, within the context of § 1404, the “interest of justice” has been interpreted to include such factors as “the pendency of a related action, the court’s familiarity with the applicable law, docket conditions, access to premises that might have to be viewed, the possibility of unfair trial, the ability to join other parties and the possibility of harassment.” Bd. of Trs., Sheet Metal Workers Nat’l Fund v. Baylor Heating & Air Conditioning, Inc., 702 F. Supp. 1253, 1260 (E.D. Va. 1988) (footnotes omitted). For example, numerous courts have determined that it is in the interest of justice to transfer a case to a proper forum rather than dismiss a case where the statute of limitations might prevent a plaintiff from commencing a new suit in the proper forum. See Burnett v. N.Y. Cent. R.R. Co., 380 U.S. 424, 430 n. 7 (1965); see also 14D Charles Alan Wright, et al., Federal Practice and Procedure § 3827 n.31 (3d ed. 2011) (collecting cases). The decision whether to transfer or dismiss a case is committed to the sound discretion of the district court. United States v. Espinoza, 641 F.2d 153, 162 (4th Cir. 1981).

Here, the alleged constitutional violations in this action are not properly brought in this venue. However, as outlined in more detail infra, it appears the plaintiff has purposefully filed this action here (knowing it would not be the proper venue) in an attempt to circumvent prefiling restrictions that have been entered against him in the United States District Court for the Northern District of New York. As such, dismissal instead of transfer of this action is appropriate for improper venue. See In re Robert Johnson, C/A No. 5:22-PF-003 (GTS), 2022 WL 1597718 (N.D.N.Y. May 19, 2022) (imposing prefiling restrictions on the plaintiff in the United States District Court for the District of New York). Indeed, during the same time the instant matter was filed, the plaintiff filed copies of the same complaint in the United States District Court for the District of Colorado (pending), the United States District Court for the District of Nevada (pending), and the United States District Court for the Eastern District of New York (which transferred the case to the United States District Court for the Northern District of New York). Johnson v. Ponticello, C/A No. 1:24-cv-02549-RTG (D. Colo.) (pending); Johnson v. Ponticello, C/A No. 2:24-cv-01728-JAD-DJA (D. Nev.) (pending); Johnson v. Ponticello, C/A No. 1:24-cv-06497-RER-PK, at doc. 4) (E.D.N.Y. Sept. 24, 2024) (transferring civil action to the United States District Court for the Northern District of New York). Accordingly, in the interest of justice, the instant matter should be dismissed based on improper venue.

Frivolousness

Even if venue were appropriate in this court, the plaintiff's complaint would also be subject to dismissal as frivolous. It is well-settled that the court has the authority to dismiss claims that are obviously "fantastic" or "delusional." Adams v. Rice, 40 F.3d 72, 74 (4th Cir. 1994); Raiford v. FBI, C/A No. 1:10-cv-2751-MBS-JRM, 2010 WL 6737887, at *3 (D.S.C. Nov. 17, 2010), Report and Recommendation adopted by 2011 WL 2020729 (D.S.C. May 23, 2011) (explaining a finding of factual frivolousness is appropriate when "the facts alleged rise to the level of the irrational or the wholly incredible"). In reviewing a complaint for frivolousness or malice, the court looks to see whether the complaint raises an indisputably meritless legal theory or is founded upon clearly baseless factual contentions, such as fantastic or delusional scenarios. Harley v. United States, 349 F. Supp. 2d 980, 981 (M.D.N.C. 2004) (citing Neitzke v. Williams, 490 U.S. 319 (1989)). The Court must accept all well-pled allegations and review the Complaint in a light most favorable to plaintiff. Mylan Labs., Inc. v. Matkari, 7 F.3d 1130, 1134 (4th Cir. 1993).

Here, even when reviewed in a light most favorable to the plaintiff, the complaint is comprised of factual allegations that are not credible, and which fail to state a claim for relief. See Neal v. Duke Energy, C/A No. 6:11-cv-1420-HFF-KFM, 2011 WL 5083181, at *4 (D.S.C. June 30, 2011), Report and Recommendation adopted by 2011 WL 5082193 (D.S.C. Oct. 26, 2011) (dismissing action upon finding plaintiff's factual allegations were frivolous, fanciful, and delusional where plaintiff claimed defendants clandestinely placed a GPS device in her car while it was in the shop for repairs and that she was being stalked by the defendants, noting the allegations were "made without any viable factual supporting allegations and appears to be the product of paranoid fantasy"); Feurtado v. McNair, C/A No. 3:05-cv-1933-SB, 2006 WL 1663792, at *2 (D.S.C. Jun. 15, 2006) (noting that frivolousness encompasses inarguable legal conclusions and fanciful factual allegations), aff'd, 227 F. App'x 303 (4th Cir. 2007), petition for cert. dismissed, 553 U.S. 1029 (2008). For example, the plaintiff alleges that he is entitled to have criminal charges and a restraining order entered against Mr. Reid and that the defendant violated his rights by not doing so (see doc. 1). These allegations are clearly frivolous and lack a basis in the law. Indeed, the plaintiff, as "a private citizen, lacks a judicially cognizable interest in the prosecution or nonprosecution of another." Linda R.S. v. Richard D., 410 U.S. 614, 619 (1973). As such, the plaintiff's complaint is subject to summary dismissal as frivolous.

Prefiling Restrictions

Federal courts may issue prefiling restrictions when vexatious conduct hinders the court from fulfilling its constitutional duty. Cromer v. Kraft Foods N. Am., Inc., 390 F.3d 812, 817 (4th Cir. 2004) (published). This "drastic remedy must be used sparingly" to ensure "constitutional guarantees of due process of law and access to the courts." Id. The factors for consideration in determining whether to enter a prefiling injunction include (1) the party's history of litigation, particularly whether he has filed vexatious, harassing or duplicative lawsuits; (2) whether the party had a good faith basis for pursuing the litigation or simply intended to harass; (3) the extent of the burden on the courts and other parties resulting from the party's filings; and (4) the adequacy of alternative sanctions. Id. at 818 (internal citations omitted). If a court finds a prefiling injunction is warranted based on the four Cromer factors, the injunction must be "narrowly tailored to fit the specific circumstances at issue.” Id. Additionally, a litigant is entitled to notice and an opportunity to be heard prior to the imposition of a prefiling injunction. Id. at 819–20.

Here, the factors weigh in favor of entering tailored prefiling restrictions against the plaintiff, as set forth in more detail below. With respect to the first Cromer factor, the plaintiff’s history of litigation (especially whether he has filed vexatious, harassing, or duplicative lawsuits), the plaintiff has filed multiple frivolous, vexatious, and duplicative lawsuits. Indeed, as set forth in detail in Exhibit A, the plaintiff has filed more than 420 prior cases in courts around the nation, with the majority dismissed as frivolous, repetitive, or for improper venue. See Exhibit A. Additionally, due to his abusive and vexatious filing practices, the plaintiff’s ability to file cases has been restricted in several districts across the country. Johnson v. N.Y. Police Dep’t, 41st Precinct, et al., C/A No. 20-2798, at doc. 55 (2d Cir. Sept. 13, 2021) (imposing prefiling restrictions on the plaintiff in the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit); Johnson v. Colvin Post Off., et al., C/A No. 2:24-cv-00324-NT, 2024 WL 4518945 (D. Me. Oct. 17, 2024) (dismissing civil action for improper venue and imposing prefiling restrictions on the plaintiff in the United States District Court for the District of Maine); Johnson v. McCray, C/A No. 2:24-cv-00142-DLB, at doc. 5 (E.D. Ky. Sept. 27, 2024) (noting that the plaintiff’s filings were “like the other heads of his hydra, frivolous” and imposing prefiling restrictions on the plaintiff in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Kentucky); Johnson v. Quality is our Recipe LLC, C/A No. 1:24-cv-00923-KWR-JMR, 2024 WL 4286359 (D.N.M. Sept. 25, 2024) (dismissing civil action for improper venue and imposing prefiling restrictions); In re Robert Johnson, 2022 WL 1597718 (imposing prefiling restrictions on the plaintiff in the United States District Court for the Northern District of New York); Johnson v. Vera House, Inc., et al., C/A No. 3:22-cv-00314-SALM, 2022 WL 829337 (D. Conn. Mar. 18, 2022) (imposing prefiling restrictions on the plaintiff in the United States District Court for the District of Connecticut); Johnson v. Trump, et al., C/A No. 2:23-cv-00471, 2024 WL 778100 (D. Vt.

Feb. 26, 2024) (imposing prefiling restrictions in the United States District Court for the District of Vermont); Johnson v. Wolfe, et al., C/A No. 1:19-cv-07337-GHW, at doc. 8 (S.D.N.Y. July 12, 2020) (imposing prefiling restrictions on the plaintiff in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York) appeal dismissed C/A No. 19-3891, 2020 WL 2544909 (2d Cir. 2020); Johnson v. Coe, et al., C/A No. 2:19-cv-02940, 2019 WL 3543542 (S.D. Ohio Aug. 2, 2019) (imposing prefiling restrictions on the plaintiff in the United States District Court for the Southern District of Ohio). As such, the first Cromer factor weighs in favor of instituting prefiling restrictions.

The second Cromer factor, whether the party had a good faith basis for pursuing the litigation or simply intended to harass, likewise weighs in favor of instituting prefiling restrictions. As noted above, the instant matter is subject to dismissal for multiple reasons, including frivolousness (and the plaintiff filed duplicate actions to the instant one in three other courts). See Johnson v. Ponticello, C/A No. 1:24-cv-02549-RTG (D. Colo.) (pending); Johnson v. Ponticello, C/A No. 2:24-cv-01728-JAD-DJA (D. Nev.) (pending); Johnson v. Ponticello, C/A No. 1:24-cv-06497-RER-PK, at doc. 4) (E.D.N.Y. Sept. 24, 2024) (transferring civil action to the United States District Court for the Northern District of New York). Further, the plaintiff, who has been identified as a vexatious and abusive filer (as set forth in Exhibit A), has continued to file cases to harass instead of based upon a good faith basis – as he has been repeatedly warned that he has filed cases in improper venues, as well as that the claims he pursues are frivolous. See Exhibit A. Indeed, the plaintiff has even been warned regarding referral for criminal prosecution for his impersonation of an attorney in some of his filings as well as his attempt to file cases on behalf of third parties without their apparent knowledge/consent. See Johnson, C/A No. 2:24-cv-00142-DLB, at doc. 5 (noting that Mr. Johnson identified himself unlawfully as an attorney as well as that claims pursued on behalf of Ricardo McCray appeared to be without Mr. McCray’s knowledge or consent and had “the potential to cause demonstrable harm to Mr. McCray”

(both in potential filing fees that would be removed from his prisoner trust account and that he could accrue “strikes” pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915(g))). As set forth in Exhibit A, the plaintiff has also been warned on numerous occasions of the consequences of continuing to file frivolous and duplicate litigation, but he has continued to file repetitive and frivolous litigation despite the warnings. See Exhibit A. As such, the second Cromer factor also weighs in favor of entering prefiling restrictions.

The third factor, the extent of the burden on the court and parties, likewise weighs against the plaintiff. As previously noted, the plaintiff’s duplicative, frivolous, and vexatious filings have resulted in a burden on the court in each of his more than 420 cases (including the instant matter).<sup>1</sup> As such, based on the tiresome continued filings by the plaintiff, the third factor also weighs in favor of instituting a prefiling injunction. With respect to the fourth Cromer factor, it appears that alternative sanctions will not be adequate to address the vexatious filing practices of the plaintiff, as he has continued his vexatious and repetitive filings in improper venues to circumvent prefiling restrictions entered in other courts. See Exhibit A. As such, the fourth Cromer factor weighs in favor of entering prefiling restrictions.

Accordingly, in light of the Cromer factors, the undersigned recommends that the following prefiling restrictions be imposed on the plaintiff:

1. For any non-habeas actions commenced by the plaintiff in this Court, the plaintiff is required to submit the full filing fee to the Clerk of Court at the time of his initial filing. If a filing by the plaintiff is not accompanied by a full filing fee, the Clerk of Court is authorized to assign civil action numbers (for docket control purposes) and the assigned United States Magistrate Judge will forward the case to the assigned United States District Judge for an order of dismissal without prejudice and without issuance and service of process.
2. These filing restrictions do not apply to any criminal case in which the plaintiff is named as a defendant.

3. The plaintiff may file a motion to modify or rescind the order imposing these restrictions no earlier than two years from the date of its entry.

This report and recommendation provides notice to the plaintiff of the recommendation that prefiling restrictions be entered and provides him an opportunity to be heard regarding the imposition of a prefiling injunction.

RECOMMENDATION

The undersigned is of the opinion that the plaintiff cannot cure the defects identified above by amending the complaint. Therefore, the undersigned recommends that the district court dismiss this action with prejudice, without leave to amend, and without issuance and service of process. See Britt v. DeJoy, 45 F.4th 790, 791 (4th Cir. 2022) (published) (noting that “when a district court dismisses a complaint or all claims without providing leave to amend . . . the order dismissing the complaint is final and appealable”).

Should the United States District Judge assigned to this case adopt this recommendation, IT IS FURTHER RECOMMENDED that an order restricting the plaintiff’s ability to file additional actions in this district be entered as set forth above.

Based upon the foregoing, in accordance with the notice rule articulated in Cromer, this Report and Recommendation is NOTICE to the plaintiff that the undersigned has recommended that prefiling restrictions be entered against him. The plaintiff is directed that specific written objections to this recommendation must be filed within fourteen (14) days of the date of service of this Report and Recommendation.

The plaintiff’s attention is directed to the important notice on the last page.

IT IS SO RECOMMENDED.
